March 2024

We would like to thank our PPS School Council for supporting us in this event.

March has arrived., and the snow has found us. Our grade 7 "Snow Angels" have been hard at work shoveling snow for members of our community. Many community members have reached out with gratitude for the way our students have been giving back. Even though the snow arrived, the days are getting longer. This always provides a new energy as we head towards the last part of the school year.

On February 13th, Ryan Straschnitzki visited our school. Ryan was a Humbolt Bronco player. He spoke to students, staff, and families about perseverance and the possibility of "opening closed doors." Ryan was so very well received by our students and left us with much to reflect on.

During the month of February, staff and students engaged in many literacy challenges. These included: Group responses to literature, words and quotes of the day, staff and student book recommendations, community member read-alouds, and a school-wide book exchange. Our school learning day on March 15th will provide additional learning in growing numeracy, literacy, and instructional practices. Mrs. Brouwer and Ms. Heim

PPS Sports Team

If you were on a PPS sports team that won a zone championship, or attended provincials, and could share information about the year and possibly players who competed, please contact Lauren Heck at lauren.heck@btps.ca. She is looking for information from 1980 onwards. Thank you in advance for your help!
